2010 Fiddlesticks Sauvignon Blanc

A clumsy, yet polite waiter would exclaim "oh fiddlesticks" as he almost drops the tray... not because of the breakage of glass, but for the waste of a fabulous wine.

Pale straw with a vibrant green hue the 2010 Fiddlesticks Sauvignon Blanc has a punchy, lifted zesty nose with aromas of freshly cut pasture and gooseberry. Flavours of lively varietal kiwifruit and gooseberry are present, with a complex tropical punch and subtle, passionfruit slice fingers. This wine offers an abundance of flavours, complemented with refreshing natural mineral acidity.

Winemaking

Picking in the coolest part of the morning is crucial to the outcome of this Sauvignon Blanc as it allows maximum but gentle flavour extraction. Juices are handled to exclude air contact and preserve natural fruit flavours, while the cool fermentation with aromatic yeast strains brings the punchy varietal zest to Sauvignon Blanc.

Vintage

A traditional wet winter saw the first non drought conditions for many years. Mild conditions were maintained right through the growing season right up to harvest. Robust vineyard canopies preserved vibrant varietal Sauvignon Blanc fruit character.
